

All children and teens with food allergies, celiac and other atopic diseases have a sense of belonging, trust and community – this is the vision of Camp Blue Spruce. We strive to reach this vision through intentional programming that considers the social and emotional impacts of food allergies. The Camp Blue Spruce Board is raising funds to support this critical work which fills a gap in the food allergy community by creating connections that support the health and well-being of these youth.

Sponsorship is an opportunity for our generous community of friends and partners to rally around our mission and come together to address the epidemic of food allergies and its effect on children and teens.

Camp Blue Spruce aims to provide social and emotional support through our following programming:

- ✓ Flagship Medical Camp: the only weeklong overnight camp in the country with the focus on a safe and welcoming environment free of the top-9 allergens plus all gluten.
- ✓ Counselor in Training: a leadership track and camper progression which has a profound impact on our young adults with food allergies.
- ✓ Allergy Pals USA: a year-round on-line mentorship curriculum that focuses on confidence and communication skills for kids ages 7 – 12.
- ✓ Junior Mentors: high school peer mentors for youngsters with food allergies. This training program includes opportunities for advocacy and leadership.
- ✓ Food Free Fun for Everyone: in-person local events for newly diagnosed families providing face-to-face support, education and community building.
